COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The highway department has been working on the ceiling of the town garage. The work is progressing quite fast, with the insulation being put on in one section. The heating of the garage should be a lot less expensive when the job is complete.

There is a little more cold patching to do, but the weather has been too cold and wet. This will be taken care of when the weather is better.

There are two new water services to be connected at West Bethel bringing the total to 25. Word has been received that the new loader will be delivered Thursday morning. The new loader will not be used on tough construction jobs, like the old one was. With good care this new machine should give the town several years of service.

The schedule for the summer road work is being made up. The tarring will probably be a little later to get better weather conditions. The work load does not seem to be as heavy as it has in past years.

There are still several who have not paid their taxes for 1961. It will save a lot of time and work if these are paid in the near future.

Mayville Barn Burns; Save Nearby Buildings Livestock, Tractors

Bethel firemen confined fire loss to the 35x75 foot barn of Henry Godwin in Mayville and a nearby shop in which the blaze started Wednesday afternoon. Saved from the building were two tractors, five cows, two calves, seven sheep and six lambs, but much hay and farming equipment were destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown.

The 40x110 foot chicken house containing 16,000 chickens, only 30 feet from the barn, covered with asbestos siding was scorched. Clifford Hillier suffered shoulder and hand burns, requiring a physician, and other firemen were slightly burned.

The Godwin home and the stable of Floyd Thurston, about 50 feet distant, and small buildings on the Godwin property were saved. Loss, partially insured, is estimated at $4,000 to $5,000.

V. A. NEWS LETTER

The more than 12,500 Maine World War II veterans who have not converted their term insurance to permanent plan policies may use an easy-stage method of making the change. Dr. Joseph Weltman, Director of the Veterans Administration, Togus, points out.

Both the law and VA regulations permit these term policyholders to convert as little as $1,000 to a plan with fixed premium amounts, in order to avoid the periodic increases in the cost of term insurance.

By converting $1,000 a year for the next ten years, the full amount of a $10,000 policy will be in permanent plan insurance within a decade.

Dr. Weltman pointed out that annual dividends may be used in the process to reduce the cash outlay.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

Mrs. Olive Davis, Cor. — Woodstock Union School observed Arbor Day by raking and clearing the yard of debris Friday afternoon. All the children in the third grade except one had 100% in their weekly spelling lesson. We are quite proud of this goal.

The PTA met at the Union School Tuesday evening with Lawrence Bagley of the State Department as the speaker. We spoke on the aims for the young people of the State in acquiring education after reminiscing on the early history of public schools in Woodstock. It was very interesting. The refreshment committee were Patricia Thurlow, George A. Ryerson and Miriam Morgan. The next meeting is May 29 at Bryant Pond. There will be a supper.

Daylight saving has arrived. Accomplishment in school lessons diminishes during this period, perceptibly. Perhaps it is time for a rest. One can't blame the children too much as they have rushed before to meet the early buses before the change in time. What can or will they do now?

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Andrews have been having bad colds.

SENATOR NORRIS COTTON OF NEW HAMPSHIRE ON NATION'S TAX BURDEN

April 16 was Tax Freedom Day. That day, according to statisticians, the average American stops working full time for his government and is free to work the balance of the year for himself. There's another way to compute the tax bite. Out of each eight-hour day, all year long, a wage earner works 2 hours and 19 minutes just to pay his taxes. No matter how you slice it, we are paying roughly 30 per cent of all we earn to run federal, state, and local government.

We find this fact hard to accept, probably because a big hunk of the taxes we pay are so hidden that we don't know we are paying them. The best kept secret in the United States is the size of the tax load. Hidden taxes remain a darker mystery than the size and number of our nuclear warheads. The income tax blasts a hole in our checking account, but hidden taxes have been sneaking in and emptying our purses over and over again, week in and week out.

You all remember the loaf of bread—24¢ for the wheat farmer, 24¢ to the consumer, in between 161 taxes. Taxes paid by the baker, the wholesaler, the trucker, the retailer. Taxes paid on the salt, the yeast, the shortening, the wrapping. If it weren't for a long chain of taxes, federal and state, you could buy gasoline for 2¢ a gallon. You think you paid a $200 tax when you bought a minimum priced $2000 car? Actually, $288 had already been collected on the parts and accessories. Furthermore, you absorbed the manufacturer's taxes on his plant, his contribution to his workers' Social Security, and a score of other items. A third of the price of your car is pure tax.

Some pocket-picking taxes are justified as "luxury taxes." They are not. The rich man has but one face to shave just like the poor man. They pay the same tax on shaving lotion. People with low incomes use the telephone, ride on buses, buy automobiles, and gasoline. I still believe the average American is entitled to a refrigerator, an electric stove, a television set.

As a boy, did you ever play "crack the whip"? A line of boys ran hand in hand, the biggest one at one end, the smallest at the other. Suddenly the big one stopped, the line snapped like a whiplash. They all hung on except the little fellow at the end who invariably was the victim and took the tumble. There's your tax picture. The manufacturer, the wholesaler, the transporter, the retailer—everybody—passes the tax along. The consumer at the end of the line pays them all.

Even the income tax, despite its exemptions, will always be a poor man's tax. There is a deep-seated notion that big government can be run without touching the little fellow. As one good lady put it to me, "People with incomes under $5000 shouldn't have to pay any tax at all. Let the rich man pay it."

Unfortunately, there aren't enough "rich men." Tax experts reveal that if Uncle Sam seized all individual income over $25,000 a year, it would run the government not quite 3 days. If he confiscated all income over $10,000 a year, it would carry the government only 18½ days. Lincoln said that God must have loved the poor people, he made so many of them. By the same token, you can't run the government on the rich, there are so few of them. It's that extra dollar or two a week from those who can least afford it that brings in the billions.

It has been wisely said, "Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it." We would do well to recall that ruthless tax-squeezing marked the beginning of England's era of decadence. As Sydney Smith put it in 1820, "...the dying Englishman, pouring his medicine, which has paid 7 per cent, into a spoon that has paid 15 per cent, flings himself back upon his chintz bed which has paid 22 percent, and expires in the arms of an apothecary who has paid a license of a hundred pounds."

Each State Police barracks in the State (at Houlton, Orono, Skowhegan, Augusta, Thomas, and West Scarborough) has its own mobile truck-weighing unit. Van-type trucks carry portable scales which are used to weigh trucks throughout the entire State.

Haydn S. Pearson

THE MERRY MONTH

We do not know why the fifth month was labelled "merry." It may be that April's capriciousness is responsible; it may be that the birds and the bees, the flowers and sunny skies gave some discerning and sensitive writer the chance to apply the adjective.

May is a month that lifts the spirits and cheers the heart. It is good to have long stretches of sunshine and deep blue skies patched with white clouds. Grasses thicken in the meadows and on hillsides and pink ladies' slippers paint appealing pictures in shadowed woodland groves.

May dawns as pageants in the sky, and as the sun begins its higher-circling arc, the sun's rays paint rich pictures on the mountains. Each dawn the birds' chorus awes in volume, mounting to the fortissimo climax that comes about the middle of the month.

of rich and satisfying fragrance. The smell of spring is a distinctive one—a blend of warming humor, fresh-plowed fields, sun-warmed woodlands and opening blossoms. It is a time of urgency in Nature as seeds start and send white roots into Earth's breast and slender green shoots start toward the sky.

Perhaps it is a merry month because one knows that true spring is here. Any countryman can tell you that while the official date is weeks earlier, true spring is another matter. But once the fourth sheet is torn from the big calendar on the kitchen wall, a man is certain.

To be sure, seasons vary. Some years April is benign and mellow; but a man who lives intimately with the weather, is always cautious. He takes April as it comes, but he knows that the merry month of May is the time when spring is here for certain.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, May 3

Read Matthew 24:36-51
"Therefore you also must be ready, for the Son of man is coming at an hour you do not expect." (Matthew 24:44 RSV.)
A picture representing an incident in the life of Napoleon shows a sentry who had been placed on duty in a cornfield. Overcome by the heat and fatigue, he had fallen asleep.

The emperor passed by, took the man's musket from his side, and stood in his place at the post of duty.

The picture shows the soldier as he awakes and finds a sentry standing in his place. He stares with white face and horrified eyes as he recognizes the sentry as Emperor Napoleon himself.

We must stand guard against neglect of duty, against carelessness. In Jesus' parable, when the master of the vineyard was delayed in returning, the evil servant became self-indulgent and quarrelsome. Because the reckoning was not soon demanded, the servant thought perhaps, to escape it all together. To guard against this tendency, Jesus frequently warned His disciples, "Watch," "Take heed."

PRAYER: Help us, our Father, to be so occupied in the work of Thy kingdom that we are in constant readiness. Help us to be good and faithful servants so that if Christ returns today, or calls us home, He may find us at our post. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

The State Police caution bike riders to be sure to obey all traffic rules. Failure to do so may involve the cyclist in a car-bike crash. Obviously, the bike rider has very little chance of emerging from such a crash without suffering serious harm.

Keeping your windshield clear will help keep your winter driving record clean, the State Police remind us. Dependable defrosters and property-working windshield wipers are indispensable helps. Don't "drive blind" when a timely check of defroster and windshield wiper blades can assure you of good visibility in even the worst of weather.

HI-SPEED PHOTOGRAPHY IS NOW A TOOL OF RESEARCH AT OXFORD

During the past 18 months, high-speed photography has become a valuable tool in papermaking research at Oxford Paper Company. The Papermaking Research Group has now begun to use a Fastax camera to make photo studies of the flow of stock on the four-drummer ends of paper machines.

The Fastax camera can operate at speeds up to 8,500 frames of 16mm film per second. However, for wire studies the camera is operated at speeds ranging from 1,000 to 1,500 frames per second. The high photographic speed literally "stops" the flow of pulp on the wire thus permitting studies of actual papermaking that would otherwise be impossible.

Jasper Mardon, Assistant Director of Research and until recently Chief Papermaking Research Engineer, was the first to make use of this photographic technique in the field of papermaking. Today, there are seven paper companies in North America using the technique in their research work.

and at least three others in Europe.

As a result of studies of this kind an understanding of certain facets of each machine studied can be gained. With this understanding changes can be made to improve both paper quality and machine operation.

The photograph shows the Fastax camera is used on Number 12 Paper Machine. Clarence W. Howe, Senior Technician and Chief Photographer, Research, operates the camera while Dan W. Manson, Group Leader Papermaking Research, controls the lighting system.

Since high-speed photography is a highly specialized field, Clarence ("Bud") Howe has been making extensive studies in the area. He has taken training sessions at the Eastman Kodak Company and the Fastax Laboratories in Rochester, N. Y. He also passed the New York School of Photography Correspondence Course and has a Second Class Pass in the Intermediate Examination in Photography of the City and Guilds of London Institute. He is on his way to gain other photographic qualifications.

BLAINE AMBLER GRADUATE OF POLYGRAPH SCHOOL

Col. Robert Marx, State Police Chief, today announced that Detective A. Blaine Ambler, Winthrop, recently received a graduate certificate from the Keeler Institute of Chicago.

The Keeler Institute is a leading polygraph (lie detector) school which trains law enforcement officials in the field of scientific investigation.

Detective Ambler, a native of Sanford, Maine, has been a member of the Department of Maine State Police since 1955 and has been attached to the Bureau of Criminal Investigation for the past five years. He was graduated from Gould Academy in 1944, attended Maine Maritime Academy and holds a B. S. degree from Babson Institute.

In the summer of 1959, Ambler was graduated from the Keeler Institute, following two months of intensive theoretical and practical training in polygraph techniques. Since then he has been the polygraph examiner at State Police Headquarters in Augusta.

POPPY DAY

Thousands of American fighting men again were called upon to make the ultimate sacrifice for freedom, and the poppy has become the symbol of our dead of the past three wars. It is recognized as the emblem of the high ideals for which these fighting men gave their lives and many of their comrades suffered injury. This is why we pin on a poppy as a tribute both to the dead and living American servicemen. The poppies still cover the fields of France beneath which many of them lie. On Poppy Day, May 26, we all have an opportunity to place this memorial flower over our hearts in tribute to the sacrifice which they made.
